

SEVEN RIVERS CEMETERY -

Originally located in Seven Rivers, New Mexico, this cemetery was moved to a new location in Artesia, New Mexico in 1988. It is now located within the Twin Oaks Memorial Park. There are a few graves marked unknown, but all the rest are listed here. During the move, some of the graves were marked by numbers, others were not. The graves below will either show a number, or NN for No Number. I copied information from the headstones as I saw them. There is a monument that has been resurrected in memory of these people. On this monument there is a list of all the persons believed to have been buried there. The dates given on this monument are not exact dates that are shown on the stones. Please see complete list taken from monument at the bottom of this list.
